Big dot = main job for that goal. Small dot = helper. Read the guides in number order: 01 to 04 are your power tools.

THE ONE RULE FOR GUILT-FREE AI

Your hand-drawn sketch goes in first. AI only polishes it.

In every Firefly picker, choose a Firefly model (Adobe-trained on licensed Adobe Stock + public domain). Skip partner models (Google, OpenAI, Flux, Runway…) when you want work you can feel good about.

Use only your own art as a style reference.

Tag finished pieces with Content Credentials (guide 10) so people can see what you drew and what AI did.

PRIVATE RECORDINGS STAY PRIVATE

Game audio + transcripts never go into Boards, Frame.io shares, Stock or Portfolio. Feed AI tools a clean beat sheet (no real names, no chatter), not the raw transcript.

RTX 3070 NOTE

Firefly, Podcast and every web app run in Adobe's cloud: your internet matters, not the GPU. The 3070 speeds up Photoshop, Lightroom (AI Denoise) and Illustrator previews.

SHOOT THE SKETCH

SKETCH FLAT on a table, matte paper

THE MOVES

1. Open Generate image
   Firefly home > Image
2. Model = Firefly Image 5
   Model menu, top of panel
   the ethical switch
3. Add your sketch
   Composition > Reference > Upload
   this is the structure ref
4. Set strength HIGH

5. Prompt it
   formula on page 3
   describe, don't name artists
6. Pick 1 of 4 → refine
   Prompt to edit / open in Photoshop fix hands, faces, text

COMPOSITION STRENGTH: HOW MUCH OF YOUR SKETCH SURVIVES

LOW (20-40)	AI invents a lot. Your sketch is only a hint. Use for wild brainstorming.
MEDIUM (50-70)	Your layout and poses, AI's rendering. Good for backgrounds.
HIGH (80-100)	Your drawing, just finished and colored. Default for your art.

STYLE STRENGTH (when you add your own art as Style ref)

LOW	subtle nod to your style
MEDIUM	clearly your look
HIGH	copies your style hard; may smear details

BEST SKETCH INPUT

Dark lines, closed shapes, plain white paper. Clean it in Photoshop (guide 02 p1) first if the photo is grey or bent.

KEEP YOUR HAND IN IT

Generate, print or trace over the result, redraw what you don't like, re-shoot, and run it again. Two loops = your art, AI-finished.

SAVE THE SOURCE

Keep the original sketch photo next to the final in V:\ . It's your proof of authorship.
